

NEW WEBSITE FOR LEARNING ESTONIAN

Do you already have some knowledge of Estonian?

We invite you to try out an all-new online environment for improving your Estonian language skills that was developed at University of Tartu. It is an internet based, easily accessible learning environment free of charge. You can watch videos, listen to audio and read texts in Estonian and do exercises with instant feedback.

The exercises can be found on our webpage at:
<http://estmigkomm.jimdo.com/>

The exercises are useful for anyone who wants to improve their business language skills as the topics cover management, marketing, service and intercultural relationships, but are suitable for anyone interested in enhancing their Estonian language skills. You can also do a quiz on Estonia, use our glossary, read articles about language learning, find literature on business language and so on.
